Hello!

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself, I am Dave Preece the new-ish Priest in Charge in Saxmundham and Kelsale cum Carlton. I say new-ish as we moved in under the radar at the end of February (under strictest lockdown conditions) and I formally started at the end of March.

As this is my first article here, and as it's been a while since we published a newsletter, I thought I would tell you a little about myself and where things are going at Kelsale and Carlton churches. I was born and raised in Eastbourne and have had a love for the sea ever since then. My family and I have made trips to Sizewell beach a regular fixture in our lives!

I taught for a few years in London before my wife and I moved to Bristol for me to train at vicar school. It was during our time in Bristol that we had our two daughters. I was ordained at Guildford Cathedral and spent my curacy (basically being a trainee vicar) in Godalming.

I am really keen on seeing the church active in the local community, and for the community to know that the church is there for them too. Lockdown and a vacancy (after Andy left) has meant that Saxmundham and Kelsale cum Carlton have worked much closer than ever before which is something we want to see continue.

I am regularly around the churches and at Kelsale School so if you see me please do say hi!

One way in which we are working closer together is to launch a new website for our benefice (group of churches). It's still under construction but do head to skc.church to find out more.

We would love to see you in church soon.

Dave Preece
